Holiday Boutique at the Museum

The holidays are approaching and that means that the Museum of Wayne County History presents the ever popular fundraiser, the Holiday Boutique! Hundreds of visitors came last year to shop at the multitude of vendors booths and enjoy the decorations that filled the museum. Visitors bought their holiday decorations and presents from the artisans and crafters placed throughout the museum during this special event. This year the Holiday Boutique will be held for two days only, Dec. 1 & 2 from 10am-5pm.

Many artisans are back and some new ones have also joined us! This year's vendors are Kristin Eckert with artwork and crafts made from nature; Jane Seen with Pottery; Jack Milliken with florals and wreaths; Marsha Fuller with holiday decor; Jay Hyland with Jewelry; Terry Holt with Dolls, pin cushions, and pillows; Nancy McDougall with dichroic glass jewelry; Barb Arbogast with antique and seasonal decor; Suzie Smith with antique seasonal decor and estate jewelry; Steve Duprey with artwork; Sandy Sloane and Sharon Loveless with Cheesecakes, and fleece products; Kathy Skenar will be taking holiday pictures in the jail cell washroom; Carol and Curt Schreiner with wire wrapped jewelry; Maia Horvath with Glass, Clay and Mirrored Art; the Heritage Society with all things peppermint; Christine Champion with Vintage Christmas decor; Sharon Yonker with cloth baskets and crochet items; Linda Shaffer with felted bags and chimes; Marcela Slocum with Crocheted items and baked goods; Pam Lee with hand painted repurposed antiques; Michele DiSanto chocolate goods; Marie Taber with small crafts and baked goods; and Pat Messure with Jewelry and signs. Each of the vendors also donates an item to the museum raffle and all items are raffled off on Saturday at about 4pm.

The Museum will again be serving lunch on Friday and Saturday from 11-2 for $8 and coffee, teas and desserts throughout the day. Again this year, the lunch has been moved downstairs to the lower level, placing all the vendors on the first and second handicapped accessible floors.
